Dedication

We dedicate this yearbook to the future—St. Mary's future, for we have influenced it and our future, for St. Mary's has helped to "chart our course."

Academics . . .

. . . Education should be as gradual as the moonrise,
perceptible not in progress but in result . . .

President Russell

President Russell's years at St. Mary's have been characterized by growth. She has seen the college grow from a female seminary into a four year coeducational college. She is dedicated to the ideals of education in keeping with St. Mary's tradition and heritage.

Her philosophy on education was expressed in her statement to the 1962 Castellan. "It is possible to be very learned, to know a great many facts, and not be wise. But we cannot become wise without learning. Each one of us has made a beginning in the acquisition of knowledge. As we continue to learn and use this knowledge in our daily lives, may we by character and intellect develop a little wisdom. . . ."

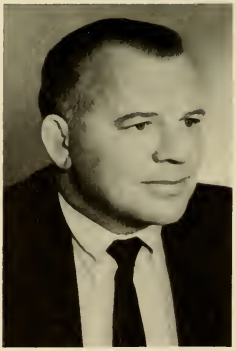
Department Of Behavioral Sciences

This year a secondary education program, under the direction of Dr. McNelis, was added to the Behavioral Science Department. Various psychology and sociology courses give the student a wide field to choose from.

Mrs. Donhiser

Mr. Chovanes



Dr. McNelis

Department Of Business

Dr. Walker

With the expanding program at St. Mary's, there are plans to add a Business-Economics major. At present the department prepares students for secretarial and business positions and gives them the necessary skills for their future positions.

Beverly Hance, Sandy Houts

Miss Spring
and
Pam Nides

Department Of Home Economics

Mrs. Levay

The Home Economics Department has provided valuable instruction to those pursuing a profession in the field of Home Ec. Courses this year included, Advanced Clothing, Textiles, Foods, and Nutrition. Unfortunately, this is the last year Home Ec. is offered at St. Mary's.

Advanced Clothing class

Department Of Music

The Music Department offers a course in the basic elements of music, providing the foundation for future study. Courses in music appreciation and applied music are also offered. The department will expand to include a course in harmony next year.

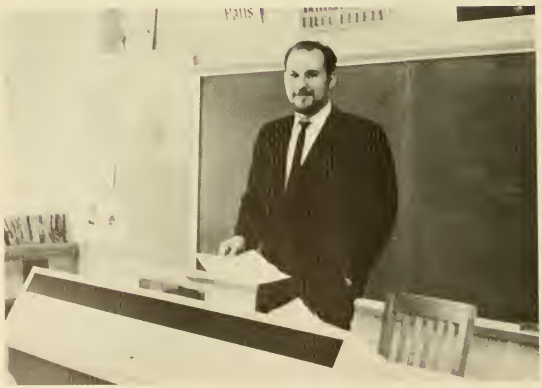
Mr. Greeson

Mrs. Greeson

Department Of Languages

Mr. Buker

Students can choose from a variety of languages. Basic courses in French, German, and Spanish will give the student a background in the language with more advanced courses emphasizing conversation and writing.



Mr. Hoagland

Department Of English

Mr. Henley

The English Department is expanding along with the rest of the school. A course in Shakespeare was added. Courses in composition, World Literature, and English Literature, were also taught.

Mr. Shaw

Miss Hubbard

Department Of Mathematics

Under the direction of Mr. Butler, the math department has grown with the addition of a Calculus III course. The department attempts to give students an understanding of basic math concepts and to prepare math majors for work in industry or teaching.

Mr. Butler

Miss Salyers

Mrs. Long

And Science

The Science department includes chemistry, physics and physical science courses. The biology department prepares students who are majoring in their field for teacher research.

Dr. Hartman—Biology

Dr. Goldsmith—Chemistry

Mr. Fahl—Physics

Department Of History

Dean Merovick is busy at work—term papers perhaps?

"If you are going to sleep, please don't snore."

Vicki Kidd and Sally Peatross chat with Miss Atkins after class.

Students had to be "on the ball" to keep pace with those World Civ. tests, Thursday afternoon quizzes, and term papers every three weeks.

Department Of Speech And Theater Arts

Mr. Hayman

Under the direction of Miss Hoblit, students of drama learn to gear their talents effectively on stage.

With the addition of an advanced speech course students may study more advanced methods in communication.

Miss Hoblit in action.

Department Of Physical Education And Recreation

Mrs. Clevenger

Mr. Lowder

Physical development of the student is emphasized. With the completion of the new gym, there has been a greater variety of sports and recreational activities.

Students display encouraging smiles as Rita skippers the "ship."

Kids take advantage of the pool's being open several nights during the week.

Department Of Art

Evidently, Chuck "got the idea."

Concentration.

The diligent hands of artists are guided to perfection under the experienced eye of Mr. Rowe. Preparation of students for teaching and forming the foundation for all the visual arts are the goals of this department.

Student Government

The Student Senate works as the voice and power of the student body of St. Mary's. The officers perform their tasks within a framework of freedom and responsibility. Currently they have been investigating the effectiveness of the government system by revising Student Court system. With student support the Senate can make important contributions to the growth of St. Mary's.
